POLITICAL ASSESSMENTS.

Commissioner Roosevelt Says They are Causing Trouble.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—From the present indications the Civil Service Commission will be busy with the investigation of cases of assessments for political purposes for some time to come.

Speaking of the prevalence of these charges, Commissioner Roosevelt said today: "We have had more trouble on account of these cases this year than in other years during which a Presidential campaign occurred. I am glad to have a chance to say something about the matter. Under the decision of the Attorney-General we can not proceed against those persons who solicit by letter. However, we will publish broadcast what is being done and guarantee to employees that they need not donate one cent. If in any way molested, we shall try to criminally prosecute those who molest us."

"We shall present the matter to Congress and urge as strenuously as possible that legislation be had to punish solicitation by letter as well as in person. During the past month we have had two decisions favorable to our position, one in Ohio and the other in Kentucky, and both of the offenders have been heavily fined. If we can get at the offenders we will have them punished as rigorously as possible. I want to see that no man in office, whether Democrat or Republican, is under any obligation to contribute to a campaign fund, and cannot be molested in any way by his superiors for refusing. This assessment is mere blackmail, and we intend to make a war on it in every way possible. We intend to criminally prosecute those who molest them."

OPEN DOORS.

Chamber of Commerce at Home.

Formal Opening of the New Quarters.

The Spacious Rooms and Hall Thronged During the Entire Evening.

Welcoming Address by J. S. Slauson. Elaborate and Beautiful Floral Decorations—The Permanent Exhibit.

Never in the history of this city has a more thoroughly representative gathering of its solid business men been seen than that which assembled last night on the occasion of the formal opening by the Chamber of Commerce of its spacious new quarters at the corner of Broadway and Fourth street, nor has any similar event ever been celebrated with more eclat.

At a low estimate fully five thousand people of both sexes visited the chamber during the evening, in response to the invitation of the members of that organization, who celebrated their installation in their new quarters by a right royal reception to their friends and the public generally.

Society was represented in all its branches. Public officials, from the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to the pettiest civic functionary, members of the bar, the medical profession, literary men, artists, bankers, musicians, and merchants and their wives and daughters, mingled together in a heterogeneous, but still harmonious, whole, in a common cause, to see and be seen.

Unlike most public receptions there was something to be seen on this occasion, for the exhibit-room of the Chamber was a marvel of beauty and taste, and contained, withal, more objects of interest than it was possible to inspect, however cursorily, within the limited time at the disposal of the crowd.

Everything was so artistically displayed and delicately arranged that even the vegetable monstrosities, which form a striking feature of the permanent exhibit of Southern California products, had charms which they never possessed before. The whole exhibit, in fact, presented more the appearance of a charity fair than that of a permanent demonstration of the growth and enterprise of a locality. Too much credit cannot be given to Secretary Willard and Superintendent Wiggins and his corps of assistants for the taste exhibited in their arrangement of the articles placed at their disposal, for it is by no means an easy matter to harmonize such a motley collection of vari-colored objects, as was turned over to them a few days ago.

Among the most conspicuous objects in the room are the walnut elephant, which was so striking a feature of the Southern California exhibit at the Midwinter Fair; the mammoth wine bottle, the oil tower, and the confectionery exhibit of the Bishop Company, and these were constantly surrounded by an admiring crowd all evening. The other most attractive features were the artron, which was most advantageously arranged, and the reception rooms beneath it.

The hall was profusely decorated for the occasion with evergreens of various kinds. Festoons of ivy hung from the ceiling round the edge of the great skylight, and the rails round the galleries were literally covered with sprays of the same plant. The spaces between the pillars were bridged with palm leaves in a most effective manner, while stands of palms and other tropical plants were scattered around among the exhibits. A beautiful stand of tall palms and ferns, at the head of the stairs from the Broadway entrance, relieved the eye, whereas by the glare of the myriads of electric lights and the bright colors of the display of products.

In the center of the west gallery a small platform was arranged for the officers of the evening and speakers, which was artistically draped with the beautiful Stars and Stripes.

OPENING EXERCISES.

VISITORS EXTENDED A CORDIAL WELCOME.

Remarks by J. S. Slauson, President of the Evening, and Others—An Attractive Musical Programme.

The exercises, which were of commendable brevity, since the majority of the visitors were compelled to stand, consisted of a few opening remarks by J. S. Slauson, the president of the evening, and three addresses, which were delivered from a small platform in the west gallery, almost directly over the Broadway entrance.

In welcoming the visitors and formally opening the new quarters of the chamber, Mr. Slauson said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, and fellow citizens of Los Angeles: There are times and occasions of great interest to communities and people. These are times of depression and success. These are times of people, both as individuals and as a nation, these have a deep significance. In the affairs of this Chamber of Commerce there have been times of doubt and dark trouble, and times of success and prosperity. You see through some little outward manifestation of the work of this Chamber of Commerce; but its main work, like that of a steam engine, is hidden and unseen."

"This chamber has labored for years and years, but, like all other public enterprises, its work has hardly been appreciated. When I went to Europe, I did not, until some startling event or master stroke of genius brings him into such prominence as to insure his everlasting fame."

"Tonight this Chamber of Commerce sets another mile post in its history, and one graver, deeper and more significant. It does not mean that it has attained, however, but only a bivouac, from which the journey toward greater strife and ever more pronounced victories will be resumed."

"And now ladies and gentlemen, and good people of Southern California, permit me, in my pleasure duty to declare this Chamber of Commerce publicly open, and to welcome you kindly and warmly, with the hope that you will rejoice with us, who do rejoice."

Judge J. W. McKinley of the Superior

Court spoke on "The Chamber of Commerce," and was followed by W. A. Harris, Esq., upon "The Future of Los Angeles City," and R. H. Young, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of San Diego.

During the evening a well arranged musical program was excellently rendered by the orchestra, and light refreshments, including a claret punch decocted by Maj. Klocke, were served in one of the reception rooms up stairs.

THE COMMITTEES.

The committee of the chamber appointed to supervise the construction and furnishings of the building and its rooms consists of the following: W. B. Cline, T. A. Eiesen, Robert McGarvin, F. W. King and Kaspar Cohn.

Following were the committees for October:

candied, and fruit tablets, and was one of the attractions from this section, at the World's Fair. The eagle surmounting the case occupied a position on top of the ornate pedestal in the Horticultural building at the World's Fair.

The Whittier State School exhibit map, model farm, hotel booth, Schumacher and Steckel exhibits were all among the very fine attractions of the Midwinter.

The Union Oil Company's display was originally a well arranged master, excellently rendered by the orchestra, and light refreshments, including a claret punch decocted by Maj. Klocke, were served in one of the reception rooms up stairs.

THE ART EXHIBIT.

The art display is one of the most attractive features of the whole exhibit, and was visited by a large number of persons during the evening. The pictures are arranged with due regard for light, etc.

make a most creditable showing for Los Angeles artists.

On the south wall hangs a neatly-framed picture of the Times linotype battery and Columbia Hoe inad press.

There are photographic exhibits by White, Sonnenburg, Stockel, Stiffner, Putnam, Hill of Pasadena, McMillen of Riverside, Brewster of Ventura and the Union Photo Engraving Company.

Among the other exhibits are H. W. Stoll & Co., soda water; Alhambra Shoe Factory, display of shoes; Miss Freeman, baking powder exhibit; C. C. Smith, display of shaving soap; Pacific Bicycle Company, samples of bicycles.

On the upper floor is shown a relief map of the country, executed by Fred J. Behre, and also a model of a small ranch under irrigation.

THE NEW QUARTERS

ARE ADMIRABLY ADAPTED FOR THEIR PURPOSE.

Designed Especially for the Use of the Chamber—Very Handsomely and Tastily Furnished Throughout.

The new quarters of the Chamber of Commerce occupy the whole of the second and third stories of a new building which has been erected on the southeast corner of Fourth and Broadway by George Mason, a well-known capitalist of this city. The location is a peculiarly favorable one in view of the fact of the rapid development which is going on in that section of the city, and it may safely be predicted that before the term of five years for which the lease is to run is terminated, the center of the business portion of the city will be somewhere in the vicinity of the Chamber of Commerce building. The structure was designed especially for the use and accommodation of the Chamber of Commerce.

On the Fourth street side, in the corner of the building nearest Spring street there are three rooms, the one on the upper story being used for a janitor's apartment, and the two downstairs for packing-rooms and laboratories. In the corner neare's Spring are the offices.

It will be seen from this description that the building is admirably equipped for the uses of the chamber, and its furnishing and appearance are of a sort to inspire residents of Los Angeles who are showing friends about the city with a very proper and reasonable pride.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OPENING.

The growth of Los Angeles during the past ten years has been the marvel of the United States. To a great extent, of course, this growth has been due to the wonderful natural resources of the section—our mild climate, our fertile soil, and our commanding commercial location. Not entirely, however. Other places might have equal advantages—had not profit by them to anything like the same extent. A man may have the most valuable invention, the best commercial proposition in the world, but unless he lets others know of it he will derive no benefit therefrom. As in the case of individuals and firms, so is it with cities and sections. Having a good thing, the next step is to advertise it abroad, so that the world may come in and enjoy it, to the profit of all parties interested.

Los Angeles and Southern California offer a striking example of the benefits of judicious advertising. It is not too much to say that this city is better known throughout the United States than any city of equal size in the country. In fact, there are thousands of people "back East" who have never been here, to whom Los Angeles is a household word, and who have never even heard of San Francisco.

The two leading agencies which have labored assiduously to disseminate information in regard to the Promised Land among the benighted residents of the transmontane regions are the daily press and the Chamber of Commerce. The latter organization has done a large amount of effective advertising work during the past few years. It is mainly through the instrumentality of this body that Southern California was so well represented at Chicago and San Francisco. The ultimate results of that advertising will never be known, but one of the early benefits is indicated in a card attached to the exhibit of the Rivers' Walnut-growers' Association, announcing that forty-five carloads of nuts had already been sold through the instrumentality of the Chicago and San Francisco displays. All, all, eighty-two carloads, as we are informed, have been sold.

Last evening the chamber had a "house-warming" in its new and commodious home on Broadway. There was a great crowd—but the details will be found in another column. Suffice it to say, that the display is superior to anything to be found on the Coast, and probably in the United States. It is a display of which not only Angelenos, but all Southern Californians may well be proud. It was so fine last evening that the attractions of oratory, and the efforts of the mute, inglorious Clevers to paint the sky were insufficient to keep the moving throngs from wandering about the rooms, inspecting brighter flowers.

The chamber under its present management, has shown itself to be comprehensive and liberal in its policy. Every section of Southern California, from Santa Barbara to San Diego, receives equitable recognition, and if there is any difference it is the fault of those who make the displays. All are heartily welcome in this representative exhibit of the fairest land that the sun ever shone upon, and if they "fall down" and don't come to time, it is their own misfortune.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has done good work, and will do yet greater work in the future, if it receives from the people of Southern California that encouragement and support which it merits.

Senator Hill, in his powerful plea against the income tax, in the Senate, declared that the law, if enacted, "would drive Connecticut, New York and New Jersey into the Republican party, to remain permanently." Connecticut has made a good beginning in the fulfillment of this prophecy. New York and New Jersey will follow in due course of time. Mr. Hill will lose the Governorship, but his reputation as a political prophet will be sustained.

Hill's self-sacrifice is something divine. Probably nobody appreciates it more than Grover Cleveland.

they would almost be justified in resisting by force.

In the course of his report Gov. Hughes devotes considerable space to a product which is not generally referred to in such documents, namely, the whisky product. In this the influence of the Governor's better-half who is a strong and outspoken prohibitionist, is clearly manifest. The Governor's statements in regard to the pernicious effects of the Arizona brand of vitriol are doubtless correct, but they are liable to bring upon his head as big a protest as that which followed his opposition to statehood. Mr. Hughes says on this subject:

"There are 672 saloons and ten wholesale liquor houses in Arizona. The average number of inmates of the Territorial Insane Asylum during the year was 97. The average number of inmates of the Territorial prison was 155.

"It has been estimated by competent authority that the Arizona drink bill for the year was $3,050,000, and this does not include the cost of punishment of crime resulting directly from the evil. It is estimated that not less than 50 per cent. of the cost of maintaining the county and Territorial governments comes from intemperance."

He then goes on to criticise the Federal government for legalizing the whisky traffic. A saloon to every hundred inhabitants is certainly a liberal allowance, but the figures could probably be duplicated, if not exceeded in any of the mining States and Territories.

In regard to the question of statehood, Gov. Hughes does not oppose it outright in his report, but says that there is a diversity of opinion as to the merits of the Constitution framed three years ago, and that a large majority of the people would prefer another Constitution.

Arizona undoubtedly has a brilliant future, a future in which Los Angeles is deeply interested, as this city is and will always remain the commercial capital of a section of which Arizona is an important subdivision. In many respects our interests are the same and the people of the Territory may always count on our sympathy and support in any of their legitimate aspirations.

A CYREN SONG.

It "transpires" that one Cyren E. Fiske is an aspirant for a city office at the hands of the Populists.

Fiske is known as a characterless adventurer, a wild-eyed and loud-mouthed crank, communist and professional labor agitator, a walking delegate and a jabbering jaw-jerker, who poses as a spokesman (for coin) of "organized labor."

He was a foretime an associate of one E. L. Clark, one Swetfakir, and another Clark in the publication of that Jim-crow weakly apple-butter organ, the Farm and Labor Review; later he exploited the magazine field with one of the long-haired Clark family, and failed in both ventures.

Now he is engaged in "driving down" a salary as a hired boy-cotter—all same ill-favored McGlynn of malodorous memory—obtaining money under false pretenses from the typographical and other labor organizations of Sacramento and San Francisco to attack Los Angeles merchants and others against whom his spleen is directed.

He "edits" boycotting circulars, labeled "Federationist," maligning honest business men—who are themselves large employers of labor at good wages—and he is at the same time "working" the People's party for a city nomination. The People's party takes up a good many fools, asses, crooks, cranks and scoundrels, but if they take up Fiske, we will be forced to the conclusion that they have even less sense than we have credited them with. Fiske is a fakir, a leech, a fraud and a pretender, and the men who permit themselves to be led for his benefit are idiots.

Some one of the numerous bran-new "managing editors" or "city editors" on a somewhat overladen Democratic contemporary has the hardihood to slurringly refer to Chairman Wood of the Republican County Central Committee as "the Times chairman" or words to that effect. Mr. Wood was the unanimous choice for the chairmanship of his committee, and owes his position to the votes of its members—a large body of Republicans representing all portions of the county.

The Times commended his selection by his associates. The sneer of the hired busybody of the Herald is not timely. Let the opposition "beware of the day."

The Western Paper Trust is the latest monopoly formed, to control the price of paper in the United States, and especially in the West. Its promoters are Englishmen, and it is presumed that they will apply English methods to the conduct of their business, so soon as their organization is perfected. Yet Mr. Wilson would have us believe that these guileless Englishmen are wholly unfamiliar with the trust "as we know it;" also that his new tariff is destined to crush out trusts and monopolies in this country.

The Jacksonville Times-Union thinks a fair election law would contribute more to the material advancement of Florida than any other agency in the State, and says: "Once announce to the world that Florida has enacted laws for a full vote, a free ballot and a fair count, and immigrants will come into her borders in streams." Quite true. It is a pity that there is so wide divergence in Florida and other Southern States, between practice and principle.

The Atlantic coast, for several days past, has been swept by a severe storm, doing an immense amount of damage from Florida to the Massachusetts shore. The damage in New York city and vicinity has been especially severe. Between cyclones, drouths, floods, Debeses, Altgelds, Morts, and other calamities, the people living east of the Rocky Mountains have a pretty hard time of it.

The investor, which appears to have a "nose for news" coming from the direction of Second street, makes the announcement, ex-cathedra or otherwise, that John T. Gaffey is the new managing editor of the Herald. No information is vouchsafed, however, as to the permanent city editor and the permanent business manager, and the suspense is something awful.

Mr. Wilson may have digested that London dinner with comparative ease; but it will be some time before his constituents digest it. In fact, the present indications are that it will prove indigestible on this side the Atlantic, except to a few tough Democratic stomachs; accustomed to crow-pie and such-like delicacies.

Altgeld is the logical candidate of the Populist party for President. He is an Anarchist, and takes very little pains to conceal the fact. Populism is an equivalent term for anarchism.

He then goes on to criticise the Federal government for legalizing the whisky traffic. A saloon to every hundred inhabitants is certainly a liberal allowance, but the figures could probably be duplicated, if not exceeded in any of the mining States and Territories.

In regard to the question of statehood, Gov. Hughes does not oppose it outright in his report, but says that there is a diversity of opinion as to the merits of the Constitution framed three years ago, and that a large majority of the people would prefer another Constitution.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

GRAND OPERAHOUSE.—The presentation of "Tar and Tartar" at the Grand Opera House by the Benson company, is being very much improved in effect over the very poor production of the opening night, for the various members have now become thoroughly familiar with their parts as well as with one another. Feely Parker, the Los Angeles favorite, has made a hit as one of the central figures of the piece, while the characters taken by the other local people are very satisfactory.

Mr. Benson will add another lady member to his company this week and he expects, very naturally, to draw good houses during the remainder of the run of "Tar and Tartar."

The Imperial and Burbank theaters are also being well patronized with their various attractions.

IMPERIAL.—The strong bill at this house continues to attract big and delighted audiences. The Brassey Bros., in their first visit, have fairly caught the town. June is repeating his success of the opening week. The pretty Addie sisters render some clever and catchy songs. Troxell and Oro do some lively knockabout work, and furnish the fun of the performance.

On and after October 20 the regular matinees and evenings will be given on Saturday and Sunday. Next week Dr. Prackett promises to be even stronger than at any time since this house's opening.

CAMPAIGN SHOTS.

(Chicago Tribune.)—Paramount Blount's political mummy is now ready for exhibition in the museum of the future.

A vote for the Democratic ticket is a vote for continued hard times. A vote for the Republican ticket is a vote for returning prosperity.

The tariff was the principal issue in Maine, in Vermont and in Connecticut. No wonder Jim Budd and his supporters insist that the tariff is not an issue in California.

(San Jose Mercury.)—Estee's canvass of the State has proven him to be a leader worth the grand old party, and has aroused the enthusiasm of veterans and young men alike.

This is a campaign of misrepresentation on the Democratic side. Perhaps there's some excuse for it, however. For Democratic orators and organiza to tell the truth would be to invite defeat for their candidates, from Jim Budd down to Bartholdi.

The tariff was the principal issue in his trial they will unearth a queer state of affairs, for Dr. Prackett is full of mystery. He now says that there was a big secret in the campaign, and now he has an apology from the woman who he says, tried to ruin him. The doctor and the woman who claims to be his second wife have settled their differences out of court, and now there will be no prosecution for bigamy until the Los Angeles wife comes to the front and wants revenge for being deserted. At present the doctor finds himself in a queer position, and he is going to move with caution and keep posted on the State Board of Health.

SEATTLE, Oct. 10.—Two more men have died as the result of the dust explosion at the Newcastle coal mine yesterday. George Dobson and David J. Lloyd; while it is expected that two others will die, which will bring the fatalities up to five.

Dobson, who is reported to be the indirect cause of the explosion, died this morning at daylight, and Lloyd died this afternoon. Giles, the colored driver, is still unconscious and cannot live long. Superintendent Corey has done all that he can to alleviate the sufferings of the injured. The mine will be put in shape for work by tomorrow.

By a fortunate circumstance, Lord and Lady Brassey of London, who are touring through the Sound country, were not in the mine at the time the explosion occurred.

Lord Brassey owns $1,500,000 of stock in the Oregon Improvement Company, and is the owner of the Newcastle mine, and it was the intention to have the distinguished couple visit the mine, but at the last moment the programme was changed, and they were taken to the Franklin mine. Had they proceeded to Newcastle, they would have undoubtedly been in the mine when the explosion occurred.

The Coroner's inquest on the three men killed by the explosion began today. The jury returned a verdict at 11 p.m., finding that the explosion occurred in breach No. 22, the death was purely accidental, and exonerated the Oregon Improvement Company from all blame. The dead will be buried tomorrow.

The Alleged Bigamist Fears the State Board of Health.

OAKLAND, Oct. 10.—Dr. Prackett, the gentleman who was accused of having too many wives, is on the anxious seat, and is thinking seriously of bidding his Oakland friends good-bye. Somebody who desired to get him into trouble wrote a letter to the State Board of Health, stating that Prackett was not licensed to practice medicine in this State. The letter said to have some foundation, for while under oath Prackett refused to swear that he was a duly-licensed physician, on the ground that an answer to the question would be to admit the truth.

Prackett has taken the first step toward the police. She filed out one of the official blanks applying for registration in the Great Register of Alameda county, and turned it over to G. P. Pendleton, one of the deputy county clerks. Miss Jacqueline has had charge of the Western Union telegraph office in Berkeley for twelve years.

VICTORIA (B. C.) Oct. 10.—The gigantic coal combine, which has been in progress of formation for some time past between the Dunsmuirns and their old-time rivals, the New Vancouver Coal Company of Nanaimo, is reported to have been organized.

The whole coal trade of British Columbia will be brought under control of what will be practically a huge monopoly, capable of freezing out all competitors on the Coast.

The output of the mines at Wellington and Nanaimo is to be limited, so that the price of fuel can be raised.

Cool coal is to go up all around as soon as the combine is secured, and the entire Pacific Coast will feel the effect within three months. It is reported that Lord Brassey's recent visit here had something to do with the further development of the combination, he being the heaviest stockholder in the Puget Sound mines which are to be ready and willing to go into the ring.

The result of the output will cause great distress among miners, as the work at present just enables them to keep soul and body together.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—The $1,000,000 estate of A. P. More, once "king of Santa Rosa Island," will now have to be sold up.

Judge Coffey today granted the petition of Mrs. C. A. Baldwin and Mrs. E. M. Miller for a partial distribution of the estate. Under the order they will now get $537,720 in cash, and an undivided one-half interest in a large amount of mining and water stock. Executor John H. IN ANNUAL SESSION.

The General Congregational Association.

A Large Number of Delegates and Visitors are in Attendance.

Exercises at the First Church Yesterday—Several Interesting Papers Read Before the Body—Discussion.

The eighth annual meeting of the general Congregational Association of Southern California met in the First Church yesterday morning with a large attendance.

The devotional service was led by Rev. Thomas Hendry, who, choosing as the subject "The preparation needed for the reception of greater spiritual blessings," spoke of the need of prayer and the indwelling of the Holy Spirit.

The tender words of Father Bristol, the pioneer preacher, and the testimony of others, made the service one of special interest.

The organization was effected by the choice of Rev. S. A. Norton as moderator and Rev. Fred Field as scribe. The moderator offered prayer, after which the committees were appointed by the chair.

The following ministerial members were reported as being present:

Rev. E. P. Abbott, S. W. Atherton, Cyrus G. Baldwin, N. N. Barker, Stepheners, E. R. Brainerd, Sheldon Bristol, I. F. Brown, W. N. Burr, H. P. Case, E. Cash, G. Emerson, A. P. Field, I. T. Ford, F. A. Field, L. H. Frary, I. H. Harwood, Thomas Henry, D. D. Hill, L. E. Irvine, T. C. Hunt, D. Jenkins, A. K. Johnson, H. Jones, J. C. Joseph, J. L. Jones, George Morris, E. C. Norton, S. A. Norton, J. D. Parker, R. Platt, G. A. Rawson, J. A. Rogers, J. M. Schaefer, A. Thompson, E. Tracy, C. S. Vaille, A. B. White, George Willett.

The following were invited to sit as honoraries:

G. H. de Kast, C. M. Cady, E. C. Case, E. O. Tade, E. T. Henny, A. B. Case, John Kimball, Walter Frear, A. K. Packard, S. C. Kendall, J. T. Findlay, M. S. Crosswell, F. F. Pearse, M. S. Phillips, J. Williams, S. R. Dennen, O. C. Starkey, Rev. Eliien J. Overton, J. Thompson, Rev. Bates Howard, W. Campbell.

Fourty-five churches were represented by eighty-two delegates.

The first paper upon the "Child in the Midst" was presented by Rev. C. S. Vaille. The speaker sought to show the sanctity of childhood as illustrated in the birth of Christ and His infinite tenderness for children. The moral and religious culture of the children is largely dependent on the church, which must be more awake to its teaching function.

Resolutions were adopted looking toward the promotion of recommending an interest in the work of the various county school-unions.

Rev. W. N. Burr spoke on "The Present International Lessons on the Life of Christ".

These lessons are supremely important. Every man, woman and child who can be should be in the Sunday-school this year studying these lessons. Men in these trying times need to know Christ for their own support. Women as those who fashion life and character, need to learn of the Great Teacher. Childhood is still the time of life when we are most worthy of their home. True study in the Sunday-schools this year will help to solve the problem of the day. All in the church should concentrate their study upon this life of Christ.

Rev. W. N. Burr, the superintendent, reported the general work of the Sunday-school and Publishing Society for the year. Sixty thousand dollars were raised during the year. Some fifty missionaries have been aided with literature, costing $10,000. Between fifty and sixty churches have been formed from these schools.

In Southern California we have fifty-five schools apart from churches. Fifteen new schools, having 470 pupils, have been opened during the year. Good literature and Bibles have been placed in many communities.

Greetings were extended by representatives of other religious bodies. Rev. Bert Estes of the First Presbyterian Church presented the greeting of the world in a felicitous and forcible address, emphasizing the need of the hour. The Campbell brought the greetings of the M. E. Church Conference, urging the need and the possibility of Christian co-operation in specific, moral and political reform. The Bradbury, gambling, Sunday desecration need our urgent attention.

A sumptuous lunch served in the church parlors, added sparkle to the noon hour.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Rev. A. E. Frary presented in an able paper the report of the Temperance Committee, closing with resolutions urging the appointment of a temperance committee to act in concert with like committees from other religious bodies to protest temperance work in the public press.

Miss Stickney, the secretary of the W. C.T.U. of Southern California, presented a valuable summary of the work of that society.

"How to Promote the Fellowship of Our Churches" by Rev. J. K. Knobell, was listened to with marked attention. Our various societies should aid in this fellowship, and yet there is lack in this fellowship. Lack of fullness of life comes from being cut off from environment, social and spiritual intercourse. The local churches should seek closer exchange and intercourse in spiritual life. We need the unifying spirit and the animating spirit by which we may act as one great body.

The mission committee does not advise enough with the mother church and on the other hand strong churches neglect their offspring. Both churches neglect social and spiritual intercourse. Churches having peculiarly hard experiences, in divisions, in losses, have been left alone. The church need special encouragement. The disinterested suggests the cure. Fellowship may be exercised along many lines, both of material and spiritual assistance.

"The State of Religion" was summarized by Rev. D. D. Hill. Many churches report reversals with large additions. On the whole, in spite of financial hardship, it has been the best year in the history of our churches.

Rev. Mr. Pullan of the Third Church in San Francisco expressed the greetings of the Northern association in most cordial terms. We have a common work and a mutual interest.

The afternoon session closed with the celebration of the Lord's supper.

The evening service was in charge of Superintendent J. T. Ford, who reviewed the year, after which there were several stirring addresses from missionaries on the field.

TODAY'S PROGRAMME.

Laub, Charles F. Rapp, Ross and Hoffman. Quite a number of musical selections were given, among which were "The Trumpeter," by Mr. Laub, and several comic songs, "The Celestial Dwelling" (Mozart) by Charles F. INFORMAL RECEPTION.

Tuesday evening was very pleasantly spent by the friends and members of Vincent Methodist Episcopal Church at the home of W. O. Jackson on Grand avenue, where an informal reception was tendered their pastor, Rev. F. V. Fisher, and his wife.

Rev. Mr. Fisher leaves this week for Long Beach, to which place he was lately appointed by conference, to the disappointment of his many friends here.

During his two years' pastorate at Vincent he has, by his eloquent sermons, his untiring and successful efforts and his faithful ministry among his people, attracted a wide circle of admirers and friends, who deeply regret his departure, but congratulate the people of Long Beach on their good fortune in securing his efficient services.

COOK-NEWCOME.

The following from the Kansas City Journal of Sunday, September 30, will be of interest to the friends of the parties in this city:

"Last Monday evening at 6 o'clock Miss Grace Newcomb, sister of Mrs. D. M. Hartman, was married to Dr. Fred Cook, of Los Angeles, Cal., at Grace Episcopal church, in the presence of a large assembly of invited guests. The chancel was a bower of palms, brightened by clusters of golden rod. Prof. Fisk presided at the organ and signaled the approach of the bridegroom by notes of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The ushers, Mr. Chamberlain, J. N. Scott, T. C. White and Harry Mather, preceded the maid of honor, Miss Eulalie Hackman, niece of the bride, who carried the wedding-ring on its white satin pillow. Then the little bridesmaids, Misses Mabel Hopkins of St. Louis; Natalie Karr, Ethel Spiker, and Helen Knell, preceded the bride who advanced to the altar accompanied by her brother, D. M. Hackman. They were met by the groom and his best man, Frank Sanborn of Los Angeles, Cal. The ceremony was performed by Dr. F. C. Smith, and the friends were held the same evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hackman. The bride wore an exquisite gown of ivory white moire antique, with close French corsage and full length Marie Antoinette sleeves, white kid gloves and white suede slippers. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Her bridal veil was carried with orange blossoms which grew on her parents' ranch, near Los Angeles. The maid of honor and bridesmaids were gowned in lovely simplicity and sweet harmony, their dainty dresses being of orange and white with Valentine-like sashes over cream silk. They carried Marshals Niel roses. Mr. Cook well and popularly known as a successful and progressive citizen of Los Angeles, will embark in business in this city. At home announcements are for 512 Wabash avenue. Many very elegant presents were received from friends at a distance, as well as in this city."

SHEHORN-DANA.

Bryant Shehorn and Miss Mabel Dana were united in marriage last evening, the ceremony taking place at the Baptist church on Main street, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Dye officiating.

Both the parties are well known, the groom being engaged in the upholstering business over in the city, while the bride's father is an old employee in the capacity of engineer of the Southern Pacific company.

The church was well filled with invited guests and after the service, following a short reception was held, Mr. and Mrs. Shehorn receiving the congratulations of their friends and submitting to the hand-shaking process in the lecture room adjoining the auditorium. The young people will be at home hereafter at the corner of Main street, formerly Leyell, and Mozart.

ANOTHER FORGERY.

Charles Albert Karl Arraigned on a Second Charge.

The way of the transgressor is hard, and Charles Albert Karl is finding it out to his sorrow. The downward path may be easy to tread at first, but near its lower end there are pretty sure to be some bad stumbling places.

Karl was tried in the Police Court yesterday charging Karl, who is now occupying apartments in the County Jail, with having committed forgery. The particular charge against him in this case is that on September 8 last he attempted to pass a check for $40 on the Farmers and Merchants' Bank, to which check he had forged the name of F. L. Rosberg. The complainant alleged he tried to pass the check to W. Harris & Co.

Karl will be remembered as the smooth swindler arrested at Catalina Island a few weeks ago by Detective Goodman. He was arrested at that time on a warrant issued by the coroner charging him with having attempted to pass a forged check at the establishment of the Chicago Clothing Company.

It appears that Karl has developed an all-around bad record. While at Catalina during the few days preceding his arrest, he, on two occasions made what seems to have been an attempt to do away with his wife.

He was arraigned yesterday on the sec-

FIELD OF POLITICS.*THE DEMOCRATS ARE DIVIDED AGAINST THEMSELVES.

Republican Activity Fails to Even Rouse the Underprivileged From Their Deep-seated Stupor—A Non-partisan Movement.

Nothing could indicate more strongly the relative condition of the Republican and Democratic parties in the county than a comparison of the scenes which are enacted daily at the respective headquarters of the political powers in this city. At the Republican rooms all is life and activity. A corps of assistant secretaries and stenographers are kept constantly employed all day long attending to the demands from the country for speakers and campaign literature, and looking after the pile of correspondence which daily burdens the office. Everything about the place bears the mark of successful effort, and harmony prevails throughout the entire system of management. Chairman Wood has been unusually fortunate in being able to devote almost his whole time to the direction of the campaign. Several detachments of speakers are now touring through the county in the interests of Republicanism, and their presence is appreciated by a majority of the voters in nearly all the districts visited, is evidenced by the large crowds which follow them. The campaign is reaching a high point in the interests of the Populists, and the Populists are solid on the "fusion" line. The Populists are well organized and are making great strides forward. They are showing great gains in cloak selling; the largest assortment we have ever carried in desirable cloaks at a low price. Special—another specially desirable article is a new line of cloaks for $10. We are the only house in the city selling good cloaks for $1, $2 and $5, they are really a good thing. We are determined to be the lowest in price. We are showing the greatest cloak bargains in the city. Like the dress goods department, we have reduced the profit on cloaks fully one half.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE

Another Meeting of the Police Commission.

The Polaski Saloon License Finally Granted After a Further Conference.

Routine Business Transacted at the Courthouse—Proceedings Before the Supreme Court—General News.

At the City Hall yesterday the Police Commission granted the Polaski petition for a saloon license. The Fire Commission acted on a small amount of routine business. The commissioners filed their report on the Broadway widening.

The Supreme Court continued its session, and there was the usual routine business in the Superior Courts, besides the Pratt will contest.

AT THE CITY HALL.

The Police Commission. THE POLASKI PETITION GRANTED—DEFUNCT LICENSE REVOKED.

The Police Commissioners held an adjourned meeting in secret session yesterday morning and settled the controversy as to the granting of a transfer of the saloon license in the hands of J. H. F. Peck, No. 217 South Spring street to M. L. Polaski & Co., at No. 215 South Spring street.

There were present only the same members who were in attendance the day before, when the police Commissioners Bradish and Bosshell and the Mayor. Mr. Bradish moved that the transfer be granted as asked for, and Mr. Bosshell, as a matter of courtesy, that the matter might be brought before the board, seconded and carried. The motion was adopted by a vote of Mr. Bradish and the Mayor. Mr. Bosshell voted against it.

The saloon license formerly issued to Rudolph Stuetting for No. 215 South Spring street, and which license had been allowed to lapse, was revoked, after which the board adjourned.

The Fire Commissioners.

The Fire Commission meeting yesterday morning was attended by Commissioners Kuhrt, Wiegert and May. Rovner.

The Chief reported living granted, under the ordinance, the petition of the Western Soap and Chemical Company for permission to place an engine and boiler on Winston street near Los Angeles street; also the petition of Thomas & Kydnyer to erect a sixteen-horsepower boiler at No. 770 Buena Vista street.

On recommendation of the Chief it was ordered that a demand of $20 on the firemen's relief fund be drawn in favor of C. B. Casey, driver of engine company No. 2, who was injured at the fire at the Baning residence and lost about one week's time thereby.

The Broadway Widening.

The commissioners for the widening of Broadway, between Ninth and Tenth streets, filed their report with the City Clerk yesterday. The assessment district for the widening extends from First street to Main street. The total damages allowed amount to $19,300. This sum, added to the expense entailed, makes $19,900, which amount constitutes the total benefit assessed.

The width of Broadway, both south of Tenth street and north of Ninth street, at present is eighty feet, while between Ninth and Tenth streets the width at present is only sixty feet. The present proceedings contemplate making the width thirty feet between Ninth and Tenth streets, as well as in other portions.

The commissioners under the present proceedings are C. H. Alford, N. E. Davison and J. A. Pirie. Property-owners have thirty days from yesterday to protest against the confirmation of the commissioners' report.

City Hall Notes.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

The Supreme Court. CASES ORDERED SUBMITTED ON BRIEFS—NOTES.

In the Superior Court yesterday before Justice Beatty and Justices McFarland, Harcourt, Pfeifer and Van Fleet, sitting in bank, the case of The People vs. O'Brien, and The People vs. Us Doug were argued and submitted.

The case of The People vs. Borda, Bidleman and Swarwinger were all ordered to stand submitted upon the briefs already filed.

The case of W. H. Clellan et al. vs. the Standard Water Company, was continued until Friday.

Upon petition of "Dr." Wong Yung, a writ of habeas corpus was ordered to issue, payable at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The petitioner, who was recently accused of practicing medicine without a license, claims that he is a physician only, and therefore does not come within the prohibition of the acts of 1876-77, under which he was prosecuted.

Decision in a Land Case.

Judge Shaw yesterday rendered his decision in the case of E. L. Greenfield vs. Dan McKinley, which was recently submitted to him, ordering findings and judgment for the defendant in accordance with the following brief written opinion:

"The evidence shows that the premises in question in this case cost $3000 at the time the alleged contract of sale was made. The complainant alleges that at that time the defendant agreed to sell the same for $2000 to plaintiff. It appears also that the defendant was in need of money and that the contract was made early in 1882, at a time when the financial condition of his wife, his height and weight hardly certain. The understanding of plaintiff is that she had four months to make the payment."

"Under these circumstances the case is clearly within the principles stated in Merrill vs. Everson (77 Cal. 114). In that case the court held that a man who had made a contract to buy it at a sum within nine months for $3000. Before the time had expired the value had very greatly increased. It was held that in a suit for specific performance, the plaintiff could not enforce because there was no adequate consideration. Lower court, however, in view of the good faith of the parties, held that the defendant was entitled to judgment."

"I am also of the opinion that there was a memorandum of the contract sufficient to take it out of the case of frauds. The plaintiff has no evidence for that purpose. He does not set forth the contract. It does not show that a sale has been made, nor does it state the price. By agreement it was provided that Mr. the agent, was to have a bill of exchange in making out the bill he could draw on the defendant for $3000. The receipt at the foot of this agreement does not show whether the price was $3000 or less than that, but merely recites that the balance to be paid to the seller was $3000. For such a thing the price may have been much greater than $3000. It would still have been true that the balance due the seller was $3000. It was therefore necessary to resort to parol evidence to show what the price really was."

"The evidence offered on this point is somewhat to the effect that the agent did not charge any commissions, but sold it for precisely $3000, so that he got nothing for his services. But in order to be sufficient it is necessary that the written memorandum be a memorandum of the contract. Therefore it is necessary that all the terms of the contract, one of the necessary terms of a contract of sale of land is the price. This writing did not state the price, and as it did not contain the statement that any sale had been made by any person, or to any person, it is clearly insufficient."

"The trial court held that the record in Bayles (63 Cal. 123) is directly in point and almost identical; and I, I think, conclusive of the question."

"The plaintiff is entitled to take the $300 deposited by the defendant with the clerk for her."

Court Notes.

In Department One yesterday morning the case against Henry J. Stanley, charged with embezzlement, was dismissed upon motion of the District Attorney.

The certificate of probable cause in the case against Edgar Moore, who was convicted of grand larceny and sentenced to San Quentin for five years, in May last, was revoked by Judge Smith yesterday and the condemned order was quashed.

Judge Smith duly arraigned Robert Ash, who was indicted for the murder preferred against him, and the defendant entering his plea of not guilty thereto, was remanded for trial, which was set for December 3 next.

The trial of the case of John Bullock vs. Jones Taylor et al., was resumed before Judge Yerkes in Department Three yesterday, but was not concluded, and will be taken up again today.

Judge York heard the case of C. H. Robins vs. the city of Los Angeles et al., an action to quiet title to lot five, block eleven, of Ord's survey, in Department Three yesterday morning, and the defendants having admitted in default, ordered a decree for the plaintiff, as amended.

The defendants in the case of the Security Savings Bank and Trust Company vs. Thomas Menzies et al., having submitted default, Judge Shaver yesterday ordered a decree for the plaintiff as prayed for, and the case brought to forecourt a mortgagor for $1000 on four acres of land in 26th, township 8 north, range 14 west.

The case of B. W. Saunders vs. W. H. Dickerson et al., an action to vacate an order granting defendants as trustees of the church of St. Augustine-by-the-Sea, leave to mortgage the property for $500, came up for hearing before Judge McKinley yesterday, and was submitted.

Mrs. Fay's women's and womanly address did not fail to make an impression, and there were many to support the arguments advanced.

MISS KELSO'S ESSAY.

Miss Tessa Kelso's paper on "A Public Library as a Means of Education" was given close attention, and it elicited a good deal of comment.

THE CLOSING EXERCISES.

Prayer was offered at 2 o'clock, when the parliament recessed its session.

Mrs. N. A. Parker of San Diego read the last paper on the programme, under the title of "The American Kitchen". Progress was being made, the speaker declared, in the kitchen, as well as in all departments of the household. The question of the day was one which entered into consideration in connection with the culinary art. The various classes of servants and their grades of ability and energy were discussed at length by Mrs. Parker, the point made being that kitchen work should be raised to a higher plane than it now occupies.

Regular duties performed at stated and particular intervals were preferable to a great variety and constant effort.

The life of the modern American should be simplified if good servants were to be secured. All women were not born housekeepers, and were not born with special fitness for different occupations. Generally, to be in harmony with natural laws, woman should make perfect home life her goal. The thought might be termed ancient, and not in keeping with modern advancement and principles, but knowledge of the details of domestic affairs did not lessen a woman's influence in social circles. It was a common fallacy that brains and education were not needed in the kitchen. When intelligence and good sense were considered, the American housewife might be elevated to a great variety and constant effort.
